BIR 2007 WORLD RECYCLING CONVENTION & EXHIBITION

The Bureau of International Recycling (BIR) held its annual conference in Athens, Greece May 20-23, 2007. BIR is an international trade federation representing the world's recycling industry. Centered out of Europe and having companies from over 60 nations, approximately 1,200 attendees participated in the conference.

The week held numerous networking opportunities centered on international recycling, as well as a full schedule of meetings, seminars, tours, and exhibits relating to the industry. The opening reception was held at the Zappeion Mansion in the historic Athens Gardens, while the rest of the conference was held at the Athens Hilton.

Many topics focused the markets in China, and India, legislation relating to import and export of material, working conditions, and new developments in the recycling industry. While the focus this year was mainly on the Ferrous and Non-Ferrous metal industries meetings were held relating to the plastics, paper, rubber, and waste industries.

BIR will hold their mid-year meetings in Warsaw, Poland in October.

The Virginia Recycling Association 2007 Annual Conference was held in Williamsburg, Virginia on May 1 and 2, 2007. The event included an estimated 210 attendees and 15 exhibitors, which once again included RecycleNet Corporation.

The Keynote Speaker was Barbara Dorr of "Keep Mississippi Beautiful". There were also a number of informative presentations given at the conference on a variety of topics.

At the annual awards ceremony, the award for Business of the Year was presented to EMCO Enterprises Inc. and the individual Recycler of the Year award was presented to Darrell Steege.

ISRI 2007 CONVENTION

The world's largest scrap recycling industry convention and exposition was held from April 18 - 21, 2007 in New Orleans, Louisiana. RecycleNet Corporation was pleased to once again be an exhibitor at this annual event. ISRI 2007 also marked the first time ISRI has returned to New Orleans after the devastating hurricane season of 2005.

The 2007 ISRI convention was attended by nearly 3,700 scrap recyclers and their suppliers. It covered a wide range of topics offering information from everything from commodities markets to transportation issues and safety.

The 2007 convention also launched a year of celebrations as ISRI recognizes the organization's 20th anniversary.

TENNESSEE RECYCLING COALITION

The TRC business and industry one day workshop was held on June 19, 2007. There were approximately 65 attendees and the list of exhibitors included RecycleNet Corporation.

The speakers at this event included Jonathan Summers from Frito Lay, Brad Bain and James Leach. Following the presentations from the speakers, there was an open discussion on hard to recycle items, problem solving and also some industry success stories.
